docker stop vs docker kill

Docker stop

This provides a graceful way of exiting the container. it will sent a SIGTERM to the main process (PID 1), then after a grace period of 10 seconds if the main process still doesn't exit it will sent a SIGKILL to forcefully kill the main process.

Docker kill

By default, this command sends SIGKILL, so no graceful shutdown.

Revision #1
Created 2023-02-20 16:51:25 UTC by Tamarine
Updated 2023-06-23 14:12:53 UTC by Tamarine